TOURNAMENTS

There's heart, and then there's
ROLLER DERBY Heart.

Before the lights are up, before the cameras roll, our WFTDA athletes are out there training in preparation. Sacrificing days, nights and weekends, each practice means missing time with friends and family. Throughout the year, they willingly embrace countless hours of blood, sweat and tears—plus injuries, setbacks, and failures. All on the road to this moment.

On WFTDA.tv, we know that every hit, every lead change represents months of sacrifice and dedication. We're proud to showcase our WFTDA athletes, so that when it's time for the game, the most important thing you see on your screen is the heart.

WFTDA.tv will be there, broadcasting live from the international Playoffs and Championships in 2015.

Welcome

2015 WFTDA DIVISION 2 PLAYOFFS HOSTED BY THE DETROIT DERBY GIRLS

On behalf of the WFTDA Board of Directors, Officers, and staff, I am excited to welcome you to the 2015 International WFTDA Division 2 Playoffs. There's nothing quite like a live roller derby tournament: the tantalizing goods at the vendor tables; the rumble and squeak of wheels on the track; the electrifying roar of a cheering crowd. Energy and emotions are alive throughout the venue as games are anticipated, victories celebrated, and losses despaired. While old friendships are kindled and new rivalries spark, the derby community celebrates its power, celebrates power, and strengthens bonds.

This is why we love it. This is why we live it.

Whether you're a Skater, Official, photographer, announcer, or fan (or any combination thereof), we're glad you've chosen to live derby this weekend!

This weekend wouldn't be possible without the tremendous amount of support and time our hosts, Detroit Derby Girls, and all of their volunteers have put in. When you see their event staff, be sure to thank them for hosting such a fantastic tournament.

Enjoy your time in Detroit and we'll see you 'round the track!

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT DETROIT

Detroit is best known for cars and Motown, but that's not all the city's given the world. Detroit's past is peppered with plenty of firsts and great innovations, proving there is more to the city than meets the eye. Take a look at these Detroit facts, and you'll see Detroit in an entirely new light.

- Can I Have Your Number? You can thank Detroit for your private phone number. Though the ability to have a private number existed in the late 1800s, they weren't as popular as party lines. Detroit helped change that. In 1879, it became the first city to assign individual phone numbers, making the party line outdated.
- I Spy. Want to look South to Canada instead of North? You're out of luck unless you're in Detroit. It's the only city in the US where you can look South at Canada. Pretty cool, eh?

WHERE'S DETROIT'S POINT OF ORIGIN?

Every city has a point of origin ... the place all distance measurements begin. Ever wonder how Seven Mile Road or Eight Mile Road got their names? They're seven and eight miles, respectively, from Campus Martius Park. If you're interested in seeing the city's point of origin, head over to the junction of Woodward and Monroe, outside of Fountain Bistro. You'll find a plaque set into the ground near the fountain naming the place Detroit's point of origin.

Detroit is an amazing city with a storied past and a bright future. Why not get out and see what makes the city so unbelievably incredible? Visit the theater district, the J.W. Westcott II, and the city's point of origin. When you're done, you can sip a Vernors and look south to Canada on the beautiful Detroit Riverfront.

THINGS TO DO IN DETROIT

The following are our top picks from the "100 Things All Detroiters Should Do Before They Die." You don't have to be a Detroiters to enjoy these can't-miss adventures!

1) SEE DETROIT AS IT USED TO LOOK AT ELMWOOD CEMETERY: As cemeteries go, Elmwood is a beauty. One of the oldest continuously operating businesses in Michigan, Elmwood has been packing them in since 1846. It's the final home to mayors, moguls, and many more first citizens of Detroit, as the eminent names on the markers and tombs attest. But it's also one of the few places in Detroit where you can see the land as it was before the age of the steam shovel. Although it did get a treatment from landscape architect Frederick Law Olmsted, the low rolling hills and even a segment of Bloody Run Creek flowing through are original features dating from time immemorial.

2) STOP, IN THE NAME OF LOVE, AT THE MOTOWN MUSEUM: The little house with the big history on Grand Boulevard wasn't always a museum, but so many people dropped in at Hitsville after Motown left town that it was converted into what it is today: a music museum like no other. The offices and studios are now filled with historic exhibits documenting the rise of the house Berry Gordy built.

3) SPEND A SATURDAY MORNING SHOPPING AT EASTERN MARKET: One of the last large historic outdoor urban food markets in America, the market fills up with food-loving metro Detroiters on Saturdays. The sheds are undergoing remarkable upgrades, and it seems a new attraction opens up every month in the area. Now if we could just get people with double-barrel baby carriages to not stop four abreast and talk to each other in the aisles.

4) PICNIC ON BELLE ISLE: There are so many things to do on Belle Isle, from nature trails disc golf to the conservatory to the museums to even Hipster Beach, suffice it to say even a picnic should provide an adventure. True Detroiters know: It's always 10 degrees cooler on our city's island park.
