

S-CURVE SEEDING

So you've seeded your Playoffs contenders and now you want to forecast who is going to be playing for the first-ever Continental Cup titles?

First, you'll need to seed the top 28 teams into the Champs bye positions and into the two Playoffs tournaments. Following that, you'll need to look at the region lists on WFTDA.com/cups to assign teams to their respective regions. Using the list, seed teams in rankings order into their respective regional Continental Cup. Finally, migrate those names to the appropriate game in the brackets. You'll need a bracket for each Cup you want to create. Use your best derby judgment to decide who the winner of each game should be, and move through the bracket to the end to determine the winner of each Continental Cup. Have fun!
